RE: It's a Boy!

Pueblo, CO – The Pueblo Zoo officially announces that a baby lemur was born February 14, 2014 – a Valentine's Day baby. The news was not immediately released as we monitored the family to make sure the baby was in good health and to give mom and baby time to bond. Today, the baby had its first check-up and we are pleased to announce that this baby boy is in good health. He and mom are currently on exhibit at the Islands of Life building and visitors are welcome to come catch a glance. More photos: <http://www.pueblozoo.org/#!/zoo-babies/c1p7u>
